C-MRiC's open access policy

- IJCSA is an open access journal, which means authors and the public are granted access to download, store or use our articles provided it's not for sale, or to be reproduced or reuse without appropriate and proper referencing of the article and the journal (see how to reference our journals below).
- Open access offers immediate and free access to the full text of research articles without requiring a subscription to the journal in which these articles are published.
- Accordingly, readers are therefore allowed free access to download, print, use, share, and display the work publicly and to make and distribute derivative works, in any digital medium for any responsible purpose, subject to proper attribution of authorship.

Our open access license

Allows:

- Access to read, print, download, store and share
- Redistribution or republication of the final article (e.g. display in a repository)
- Translate the article
- Download the text for data mining purpose
- Reuse portion or extracts from the article in other works

Does not allow:

- Selling or re-use for commercial purposes
- Distribution for profit or gain e.g. trading in place of financial reward

Copyright

- Authors who publish in Open Access journals retain the copyright of their article.
- Retain patent, trademark and other intellectual property rights (including research data).
- Proper attribution and credit for the published work.

Quality

- Our open access journal articles undergo strict multiple-blind peer reviews.
- All articles are subject to at least three blind-peer reviews by the Editorial Review Board of the journal, and domain experts may be invited to review an article.
- Final decision with regards to acceptance, revision or rejection of an article will be based on the collated and collective review feedbacks by the reviewers.
- All submissions must be submitted electronically via online submission.
